It has been said that the Hon. F. A. Manuagares will decline a nomination for re-election, but whether this report be true or not, we are unable to state, Mr. Manzanares has always been and is still a consistent Republican in principle, and although he per-sistently declined the nomination by the Democrats of the Territory, yet his years past. was elected, not by the Democrats alone, but by a usion of the Independout Republicana who were dissatisfied with the nomination of Mr. Luna, and voted for Manzanares. In fact it was such a combination including some local questions that elected him. That he has proved to be an active and efficient representative during the short period he has been allowed to serve the people all will admit. He is a toan of the people, free from all political tricks and combinations; for self interest or personal aggrandizement. His sole object has been to serve the best interest of the masses, impartially, and to aid in the advancement and progress of the country. This position has given him prominence with his poers in congress, and has seeured for himsthe confidence and respect of the. people in all parts of the Territory, regardless of political opinions or creeds. That he is the man whom the people with to represent them in the next congress there is no doubt. Leaving politics out of the question, he would receive the suffrages of at least bineteaths of the legal voters of the Territory. His name was suggested at the Republican convention at Albuquerque two years ago, and they made a grand mistake in not nominating him then. The Democrats feeling that there was no show to elect a Democrat and well knowing the personal popularity of Mr. Manzanares throughout the Territory, took advantage of the situation, and tendered him the nomination without his knowledge or consent, and which he absolutely declined long after the adjournment of their convention. Yet be was placed upon a ticket headed "Democratic," and his personal popularity elected him. The Democrats after securing the elecnominate the Hon, F. A.
